DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 81-87 are currently pending and are present for examination.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Rejection of Claims 81, 84 and 85 on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 and 3 of U.S. Patent No. 7,390,659 is withdrawn in view of Applicants' persuasive argument, filed 01/12/2009. It is noted that the instant pending claims and the allowed claims are directed to methods of identifying candidate molecules on the basis of the observed effects of the candidate molecules on neural cells derived from embryonic stem cells by the sequential actions of retinoic acid and a hedgehog protein. Applicants persuasively argue that step (d) of claim 85 of the subject application is different from step (e) of claims 1 and 3 of the '659 patent. The final steps of the instant claims require an observation of motor neuron phenotype or differentiation, whereas claims 1 and 3 of the '659 patent recite a determination of cell growth or regeneration. The definitions of "enhance regeneration" and "growth" provided by the '659 patent do not include the rate of motor neuron differentiation. (Column 23, lines 41-47). Therefore, the methods of the instant claims have different designs and modes of operation as compared to those of the allowed claims. Although some candidate molecules may both enhance growth and promote motor neuron differentiation, it would not be predictable or obvious that the instantly claimed methods would lead to identification of the same candidates. It appears, therefore, that the instantly claimed methods and claims 1 and 3 of the '659 patent are not obvious variants of one another. Rejections and/or objections not reiterated from previous office actions are hereby withdrawn.

3. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
